

2022 Annual Event

When we celebrated our 10th anniversary in 2021, we spent a lot of time looking back at Paper for Water's impact - on us, our family, our hundreds of volunteers and supporters, and the communities that have received the essential gift of clean water.

We were a little stumped when we thought about a theme for this year's Annual Event. But reflecting on last year, we kept seeing the enormous ripple effect of Paper for Water's mission. We never imagined a one-month fundraiser in 2011 would grow into such a force for good, leading to thousands of lives being changed with clean water and sanitation. We know this would not have been accomplished without our dedicated volunteers and generous donors.

Bringing clean water to communities creates a powerful chain reaction. Lifting the burden of hauling water over long distances and under dangerous conditions increases educational and career opportunities, especially for women and girls. Clean water and sanitation improves the overall health of communities, creating a ripple effect that continues for generations. That is certainly something to celebrate!

This year has been full of new opportunities and experiences. Paper for Water's organic growth has never ceased to amaze us. This year began in our office where several of our Change Makers participated in Toastmasters. Then we were on the Kelly Clarkson show which aired on national television this spring. After coming off that high, we were asked to be in a podcast based out of London, and just like that, our effects were projected yet again on an international stage.

Someone once asked us, "How did Paper for Water get so big?" To this day, we still cannot fully answer that question, but we do know that every person reading this letter has added to Paper for Water's ripple effect. Your support helps us continue to make life-saving ripples around the world. We would be honored if you would join us in celebrating eleven years of bringing water and the Word to the Thirsty, one piece of paper at a time.
